

6 favorite Sonoma Valley wineries

In the Sonoma Valley, you can taste world-class wines in laid-back Western style

Lasseter Family Winery

What started as a husband-and-wife project bottling small batches of Bordeaux at home to give out as gifts has, over the course of two decades, become a family labor of love. Three generations of Lasseters produce small batches of Zinfandel and numerous www.lasseterfamilywinery.com; One Vintage Lane, Glen Ellen; 707-933-2814 reservations.

Old World-style blends. Lasseter is small and the family is busy, so definitely make an appointment before tasting. Once you're on the grounds, relax and settle into a 90-minute vineyard-strolling, cheese-grazing, dog-petting experience.

Sunset

FOOD & WINE

GARDEN

HOME

TRAVEL

BLOG

MAGAZINE

EVENTS

BOOKS

GETAWAYS

SUBSCRIBE

★ Sunset Boutique ★ 2016 Idea House ★ Guide to the National Parks ★ Wine Club ★ Cornerstone Sonoma ★ Sunset TV

Plan a trip to Sonoma wine county

Of all California's wine regions, Sonoma may be the easiest to fall in love with. Visit this laid-back land of vineyard-rich valleys, from Sonoma to Dry Creek to Alexander, with the Russian River thrown in

MAIN

SOMONA VALLEY

RUSSIAN RIVER

ALEXANDER VALLEY

DRY CREEK

MORE FUN

7 OF 7 > VIEW SLIDESHOW

St. Francis Winery & Vineyard

Bartholomew Park Winery

Hamel Family Wines

Lasseter Family Winery

Patz & Hall

Paradise Ridge Winery